

Praying for You

Description

Dear Readers,

I have not been able to write this week due to some health issues. Unfortunately, I think I'm going to have to take a break from the computer for a little while. It grieves me to do that, as I felt I was just getting the hang of getting these devotionals out to you daily. But my body needs a break. I'm hoping to get back into writing gear soon, but for now I need some time to rest and refuel.

Please know that I will be praying for all of you. I pray God continues to strengthen each one of you and provide wisdom through His Word for you.

I'm hoping to post some devotionals here and there to keep you encouraged. Many of them will come from my archives and I pray you enjoy them. I hope to be back soon and stronger than ever. In the meantime, please keep me in your prayers. Please pray that God continues to give me His direction for this devotional site and that He gives me the words to write.

May God continue His amazing work in each one of you and may you be refreshed by His Word. May God's Truth strengthen and encourage you. May you find yourself daily encouraged by God's love and restored with His hope. May God's joy flow in abundance for you and may you truly experience the grace of God daily. May God's faithfulness be ever present in your life and may you see that He has a plan for every new day that you face. Please keep your eyes on the Lord! Stay focused and know that God loves you so much!
